

PIERFEST 2024

Brighton Palace Pier's annual music and arts festival returns this September for a 2 month season of special events spanning the globe. With international performers from India, Ukraine, Bolivia, Venezuela and Chile, Brighton Palace Pier is the perfect setting to hear world-class world music! Kicking off in mid September we open with iconic techno-pop beats celebrating the brilliant Kraftwerk...

Sunday 15th September

KRAFTWERK: 50 Year anniversary

Kraftwerk: 50 Years of Autobahn And Far Beyond... Kraftwerk invented techno-pop - and by extension, all of modern dance music. Now for the 50th anniversary of the band's international breakthrough album "Autobahn", music technology expert Mark Jenkins (Tubular Bells for the Moog Synthesizer, Dark Side of the Moon for the Moog Synthesizer) presents a striking live solo performance of the band's hits, experimental music they never play, and music they might have played in some alternate future reality ruled by computer graphics, vocoder vocals and artificial intelligence imagery. The greatest hits and incredible alternative versions of the world's leading techno-pop band, with spectacular visuals!

7.30pm, doors 7.00pm, Tickets £15.00

JOHN&THOMAS – A new play by Andrew Kay

John & Thomas is a romance, the love story of two older men approaching retirement, one ready to face a quieter future, the other unready to give up a life on stage... and in heels!

This performance will star actor and drag star Dave Lynn with Allan Cardew and will be narrated by BBC Sussex Radio star Allison Ferns and is a fundraising event to support the creation of an annual prize for LGBTQ+ theatre in honour of Jason Sutton

AKA Miss Jason who sadly died this year. This new prize will honour Jason's talents and help upcoming theatre makers from Brighton & Hove's LGBTQ+ community.

7.30pm, doors 7pm, Tickets £15 <https://www.wegottickets.com/event/627048>
